Tabs3 Recognized as a Top Time and Billing Software
Results of 2015 New York Law Journal Reader Rankings Released

Lincoln, NE September 22, 2015 – Software Technology, Inc., the maker of Tabs3 and PracticeMaster, announced today that Tabs3 Billing placed third in the Best Time & Billing Software category for the 2015 New York Law Journal Reader Rankings.

"We are thrilled to be recognized by the readers of New York Law Journal. For over 35 years we have worked hard to develop reliable and quality software for law firms," said Dan Berlin, President of Software Technology, Inc. "This kind of recognition from the legal community means a great deal to our entire team."

Published since 2010, the New York Law Journal Reader Rankings allows the New York legal community to recognize the vendors that help them with all aspects of life as a lawyer and legal professional. In 2015, over 8,000 votes were cast by lawyers, paralegals, judges, and those who directly use the services addressed in the online community.

Tabs3 and PracticeMaster products include billing, financial and practice management software for law firms. The most recent release of the Platinum version offers Tabs3 Connect, a way to use your phone or tablet to enter time, and review the client and matter information that is safe and secure back in your office.
