Tabs3 Announces New Integration with Fujitsu®

ScanSnap provides law firms the ability to scan documents searchable within PracticeMaster

Lincoln, NE – February 10, 2016 – Software Technology, Inc., the maker of Tabs3 and PracticeMaster, announced a new collaboration with Fujitsu Computer Products of America, Inc., the distributor of ScanSnap scanners in the US. In the latest update to Tabs3 software, clients can use ScanSnap scanners to quickly add searchable (via OCR technology) scanned documents to PracticeMaster from ScanSnap’s Quick Menu. ScanSnap gives users the confidence of knowing that all documents will be found using PracticeMaster’s text search functionality.

“Teaming with Fujitsu extends our document search functionality and provides law firms with an innovative and easy-to-use way to save and find their documents in PracticeMaster,” said Dan Berlin, President of Software Technology, Inc. “For over 35 years, we have worked hard to develop reliable, quality software for law firms and to ensure Tabs3 clients can organize their firm’s documents and perform conflict of interest searches easily.”

“ScanSnap makes it easier to find exactly what you need when you need it,” said Scott Francis, Senior VP of Marketing at Fujitsu Computer Products of America, Inc. “Integrating ScanSnap into PracticeMaster gives law firms greater efficiency and productivity.”

Tabs3’s integration with ScanSnap is a Version 18 feature. Version 18 also includes new ways to save time through enhanced reconciliation, bank transaction import capabilities, and improved trust accounting features. The reconciliation process in Version 18 has been completely redesigned to have fewer steps and make any discrepancies easier to understand, helping clients reconcile their accounts faster. Further, clients can save time and prevent the possibility of human error by importing transactions from their bank’s website directly into Tabs3 General Ledger and Trust Accounting software. Finally, with the improvements to Tabs3 Trust Accounting, it’s even easier to keep clients’ trust account balances in check.
