

Today's clients expect law firms to accept credit card payments.
That can impact profitability when credit card processing fees impact your firm's bottom line.

The solution? Surcharging with Tabs3Pay

What is a Surcharge?

This type of "checkout fee" passes the cost of credit card processing fees from your law firm to your clients. The surcharge amount is a percentage charged at the time of payment and is used to pay the fees that credit card companies charge for processing payments.

Benefits of Surcharging

Individual credit cards, such as VISA, Mastercard, or American Express, have specific rules to ensure payment practices are ethical. Law firms are also subject to state and federal surcharging regulations.

Many law firms avoid surcharging, assuming that the process is complicated. But surcharging can be part of a frictionless payment experience. If your firm implements the surcharging option with Tabs3Pay, a surcharge fee is automatically added whenever a client elects to make a credit card payment. A flat 3.0% surcharge fee is paid by the client and your firm receives 100% of the original pre-surcharge payment. Surcharging does not apply to debit cards and ACH transactions.

Hassle-Free Compliance

Tabs3Pay automatically displays the full payment breakdown, including the surcharge percentage, on customer invoices, web payments, and payment receipts. Tabs3Pay is 100% compliant with all major credit card requirements and state regulations.

Easy Setup

Our first-class team guides your law firm through a seamless setup. Your firm can then begin surcharging credit card transactions after 30 days.

Top-Level Security

Payments of all types to your law firm are protected in Tabs3Pay with the highest level of PCI security standards. All credit card information is encrypted on all processing devices, and Tabs3Pay never stores sensitive client information after a transaction.

Support You Can Count On

Our in-house team of Tabs3Pay experts is dedicated to helping you maximize your revenue with surcharging while adhering to all state and federal guidelines.
